From the editor:

I have started a yahoo group site for all of my design work and other related aircraft work. Many of you are already connected to many yahoo groups, you can join this one as well and when updates of the Legal Eagle build project happen, you can see these update posted and follow along.

This is contained under the "files section" on my site listed under Legal Eagle XL

You can get there fairly quickly by going to

<http://groups.yahoo.com/group/IronDesign/files/Legal%20Eagle%20XL%20Case%20Study/>

And then signing in.

This looks to be a fairly easy task to complete for all and has been working well for me to make updates, ext, without lots of web site work.

I think this was also going to be followed by a face book page, or a some other form of web site, but I have not received information to these locations.

You can consult our web page editor for further information, he is listed on the front page. (Adam)

Thank you, Scott Weinberg.

On the Legal Eagle aircraft build project. We are working on material package list and have the brakes , wheels, tires and axles on hand.

Thank you, Scott Weinberg

Doug's Third Thursday Burger burn– July 21st 2011

If you have never been, it is really simple, fly-in or drive in to the Mason City Airport. Cars park on the south side of the Rozendaal Hangar . We have paved parking up by the fuel tank farm if you prefer to fly in.

Bring something to throw on the grill, something to drink, and a dish to pass. If you are flying in and that is a problem, fear not, we always have plenty of food! Oven for Pizza, finger food has been great.

We light the grills around 6 pm.

If you drive and need through the gate, call 641-425-5432 and we will let you in.

No speeches, no meetings, just fellowship and good food with other flyers.....

A go slow bird– Legal Eagle XL single seat dressed in go fast clothes... Dreaming yes. But then 100 years ago, flying was but hardly more than a dream.

Zoom zoom!

Great news:

The Chapt. 94 hanger is now being occupied by paying airplanes again.

A huge thank you to Ken Asbe for doing a great deal of the work and orchestrating the balance of what he didn't do.

Updated photos in place— please follow directions below:
Latest new photos are of the young eagles and Pilot listings.

Photos: Please note a neat new way to view past events in our photo section. This is a better way to showcase more photos each with a description. Here are the steps to follow to see them. And they are simple!

Hit this tag: <http://photobucket.com/> Then in upper right hand corner username box eaa94 For password type eaa94show then hit Login On the left you will see any one of the events...with photos.

Pick the event and then pick slideshow and you should be able to see everything. This works really well.

Those of you with EAA 94 photos, I can send directions to load them... it is just two more steps than above and also works really well. Please do ask... and I will help you.

There are lots of events again for the balance of the year, please do send any and all photos to me that you would like on this photo site. WE can put into categories from airplanes sitting, flying and the like, right down to rivets and tire stems. With your help this can be a great grouping of photos.

Why pay dues?

Your club has been doing some great things, with more members than many, more flying planes than most and the list goes on. We held the largest young eagles event in Iowa last year. We exposed more aviation related material to the kids than any other young eagles event.

We have been apart of a declining population of flyers with a upbeat group of members and this can only take place with new members and ideas. By being a bit more involved with the group carries this on even further.

We have some great things coming down the line with the hanger project, possible high school class start up of a flying aircraft build project, revived interest in helping members get back to flying with lower cost planes.

Such a diverse group we have from Airline 1st officers, Corporate Jet pilots, ultralights to twin engine classics. WW2 type aircraft pilots to turbine pilots and everything in between, just a fantastic array of experience. Certainly worth being a part of.

The above dues notice was mentioned that I have not been posting this every month and that is true. So from here on out it will be an integral part of your newsletter just like the photo page notice items.

Dues have been and always will be considered due in Jan each year. Starting next month, unpaid members will just receive meeting notice with no updated minutes or agenda.

To:

Hot of the press– Chapter 94 has received an additional $2000 grant for the Legal Eagle XL build project. This will almost make it self sustaining ongoing training for the Jr and Sr. level students at Clear Lake.

Not many project or class studies can tote life building experience, with on going improvements with little to no cost to school system or surrounding enterprises. If you would like to become further involved please let Scott Weinberg or Ken Asbe know.
